Eligible Program Area:

Up to 50% of rebates will be issued for residences located outside the City of Prince George, in the RDFFG. To find a Woodstove Exchange Program running in another region, visit: <http://www.bcairquality.ca/topics/wood-stove-exchange-program/contact.html>.

Rebate Value:

The value of the rebate for the 2017 PGAIR Woodstove Exchange Program is $500 (exception: rebate value cannot exceed new appliance price). Program participants may also be eligible to have their permit fee waived ($130 value) by their local government (wood burning appliance replacements only). Please contact your local government office (municipal or regional district) to inquire. Participants should also contact their insurance company to learn if they can save on home insurance (by qualifying as a secondary heat source). Recycling your old stove at a metal scrapping facility will also provide a small refund for the scrap metal value.

Eligible original appliances:

- A free-standing non-EPA certified “stove” or a “homemade” or “barrel” stove.
- A so-called “airtight” non-EPA certified fireplace insert, or tube type heat exchanger with a face plate and door (like the “Free Heat Machine” or Welenco or Heatalator that is currently installed in an open hearth fireplace.
- A non-EPA certified “wood furnace” (ducted, forced air, home heating appliance) – may only be replaced by an EPA certified wood furnace or pellet furnace.
- A wood-burning cook stove.
- More Info: http://www.bcairquality.ca/topics/wood-stove-exchange-program/exchange_guidelines.html

Eligible replacement appliances:

- An EPA-certified wood stove, pellet stove, or gas stove/fireplace
- An EPA-certified wood insert, pellet insert, electric insert or gas insert.
- An EPA-certified factory-built wood fireplace. This may only be accepted if it is replacing a NON-EPA-certified WOOD STOVE OR NON-EPA-certified WOOD INSERT (not an existing factory-built fireplace)

Destroying original appliances:

You or your contractor is responsible for ensuring that the old appliance can no longer be used or sold again. You must show proof that the appliance has been rendered unusable or crushed at a scrap metal facility (photo, or signed declaration from facility attendant). A template Declaration Form for scrap metal facilities is available at www.pgairquality.com. A receipt from the scrap metal facility will not be accepted as proof that the stove has been destroyed. You can make the stove unusable yourself, by removing the doors, breaking the glass, damaging the hinges with a hammer, and bashing in the flue collar (take photo).
